FPR’s Cost Savings and Reductions in Recent Years
Reductions/Savings Since 2009

• Eliminated 56 positions in 2010-11; approx. $2M saved
• Departmental re-org; duties of eliminated positions reallocated, eliminated, or outsourced
• Elimination of City nursery, puppetry program, nature program at Langford Park, after school program at Loch Haven Community Center
• Reduced pool hours, community center hours, park watering cycles, frequency of park maintenance
• Recreation reduced expenses through improved resource allocation/management $725,000
Reductions/Savings Since 2009 (continued)

• Fee increases instituted starting in 2008-09, contributing to a 17% revenue increase

• In 2009/10, Parks reduced utility costs approx. $200,000/year by deploying new irrigation technology, eliminating irrigation where it wasn’t needed, contesting erroneous bills, increasing inspections, and utilizing “greener” vendors to dispose of tree debris

• Since 2011, Recreation has similarly undergone a utility savings initiative, reducing utility costs by approx. $150,000/year to date.

Potentially Vulnerable Programs and Impact on LOS

Unmet maintenance needs
Potentially Vulnerable Programs

- Maintenance of outdoor athletic facilities, including replacing torn netting and broken fences, resodding muddy ball fields, putting clay on pitcher’s mounds, drawing lines on soccer fields, and repairing tennis court cracks.
Potentially Vulnerable Programs

Aging playgrounds and community center amenities (treadmills, chairs, carpets, rusted fixtures)
As old equipment breaks it is removed and not replaced.
Playgrounds and community centers decline in size and functionality.
The reputation and utilization of City facilities declines.
Recap

• Significant downsizing resulting in a 29% leaner workforce and 47% decline in employees per resident.
• Numerous cost-cutting initiatives resulting in reductions in utility costs, personnel expenses, liabilities caused by tree damage, and more.
• FPR performs critical roles improving educational performance, reducing juvenile crime, improving health/wellness, building community cohesion.
• Utilization of FPR facilities/programs has increased dramatically.
• FPR increasingly relies on grants/user fees.
