4.1 CASE FILES

Filing packages will be completed on all felony and misdemeanor arrests. This will include all warrants, at-large affidavits, and notices to appear except for misdemeanor traffic arrests. All cases must be filed within the prescribed time limits regardless of the availability of items on the checklist.

The Filing Cases Checklist form (Attachment A) must be attached as a cover sheet for all filing packages.

Officers shall ensure whenever an employee's name is initially listed in an official police document, i.e. Incident Report, Charging Affidavit, Uniform Traffic Citation, or Notice to Appear, the employee number shall be listed immediately following every employee's name. For example, the entry would appear as follows: Officer John Doe 9999. The employee number would be required for the first entry only of the employee name in the document.

The arresting officer shall make a photocopy of the Charging Affidavit and supplemental documents, and then put the package together marking the appropriate blocks on the cover sheet. Officers are reminded that original reports and documents are not sent outside the Department, except sworn statements.

Officers shall obtain sworn statements from victims and witnesses of a crime. Officers shall be responsible for the quality and content of the sworn statement. Whenever possible victims and witnesses should write their statements. Statements written in foreign languages must be translated into English before the submission of the case package. The statements can be translated by having a friend, relative, or person that is translating at the scene complete the statement for the victim/witness. If the statement is completed by the victim in a foreign language, the submitting officer can locate an officer within the Agency that can translate the statement. Statements translated by an officer should include the following: "I Officer (name) speak and understand (language). This is my interpretation of the statement but it is not a certified translation." A list of foreign languages spoken by OPD employees will be kept at the Communications Center.

All relevant evidence must be provided to the State Attorney's Office to ensure the integrity of the prosecution. Relevant evidence is that which tends to prove or disprove the defendant's guilt. The State Attorney's Office must disclose to the defense all relevant evidence known to law enforcement; the State must disclose all statements made by a defendant, including any oral statements made by the defendant. A failure to disclose a defendant's statement is likely to result in case dismissal or conviction reversal. Officers and assisting investigative personnel must disclose all statements made by a defendant relating to the case, regardless of the form of the statement (e.g., oral statement, audio recording, voice or text message, email, written statement, spontaneous utterance, etc). Officers have an ongoing obligation to disclose any known statement made by the defendant throughout the prosecution. Officers must list the name of every known witness, including police officers who participated in the case. The State Attorney's Office is required to disclose a full witness list to the defense in discovery. This includes officers who only had a small role in the case.

In non-arrest misdemeanor cases, the victim's, witnesses, and defendant's nearest relative's name, and address (P.O. boxes, R.R. boxes, and "transient" are not sufficient) shall be included with the filing package.

Warrant packages must be submitted within seven calendar days from the date the court case number was obtained. Except in domestic violence cases, if the victim decides not to prosecute, before case submission, the officer shall have the victim complete the declination to prosecute statement section of the Statement form.

Any officer filing a case directly must, as soon as possible, contact Criminal Intake personnel with the case number, arrestee's name, and charge so the Criminal Intake Unit log is kept up-to-date for statistical purposes and tracking the case.

In all cases, the officer will indicate on the Filing Cases Checklist whether force was used. This will alert the State Attorney's Office that the form exists and, if the intake or trial prosecutor feels this public record is relevant to the particular case, they may request a copy of the Defensive Tactics Form and related documents directly from the Internal Affairs Section.

After receiving a case file from the officer, the immediate supervisor shall review the case file for completeness and accuracy, including probable cause and the quality of the arrest. Supervisors shall return case files to officers for corrections, if necessary. The supervisor will sign and date the checklist and shall place the case file in the Criminal Intake Unit receptacle for processing within ten calendar days for adult felonies, 24 hours in all juvenile cases, and five calendar days for adult misdemeanors, including the date of arrest. When placed in the receptacle, the case file log is to be completed by the supervisor.

Should the due day fall on a weekend or a holiday, the case file shall be submitted before 1100 hours on the last workday before the weekend or holiday.

Supervisors are responsible for assuring that arrests meet the proper criteria and that case files are properly completed and submitted within the proper time frames to the Criminal Intake Unit. Supervisors shall also ensure that at-large cases are submitted when probable cause has been established and prosecution is appropriate. The Criminal Intake Unit shall generate an email when at-large cases have not been received per this policy.

The employee shall complete the task specified on the tasking sheet and return the package to the immediate supervisor within 72 hours of receipt (including weekends, holidays, and RDOs). The supervisor shall verify the specified task has been completed and place the package in the Criminal Intake box. If the employee is unable to comply with the task specified, the employee shall notify their lieutenant or civilian manager before the deadline for obtaining the information or documents requested.
